FROM THE CENTER SEAT

The T-shirts have arrived and are they great! Most who ordered them already have them as they were passed out at the meeting. If you did not get yours you may either come to my house, come to the next night out, or wait until the next meeting to get your order. They are so nice I am sure you will want to get it right away! I am home most evenings so just give me a call.

We had so much activity the last month it is hard to report on everything. First, I heard the night out was well attended. Unfortunately, I was not feeling so great and was not there. The October meeting was overflowing with people. There were three visitors, one of whom joined on the spot! It was a bit crowded in the room and I am in the process of

TREK BUZZ

According to a CNN report, Brent Spiner may not be in the next Star Trek movie. According to the report, Paramount is reluctant to give him the $5 million he wants for the movie.

I will quote Ron Moore's statement on AOL: "Let me be crystal clear: Colm Meany (sic) is not, has not, and will not be leaving the show. Period." Great news for you Chief O'Brien fans!

Denise Crosby is nearing completion of her documentary, "Trekkies". General release of "Trekkies" will be in 1998, but it will be shown at various film festivals.

On board the Cassini Saturn probe that recently was launched was the signature of some 616,000 individuals. Among them is Patrick Stewart (and many DaVinci crew personnel as well).

For you Vedek Bareil fans, the character will be returning to Deep Space Nine this season. Entitled "Resurrection" the episode will take place in a mirror universe.

Jeri Ryan (Seven of Nine) is listed in the October issue of Detail magazine as one of televisions "most Allow me to introduce myself! I am ENS Steve Gordon, your new Medical Officer. I am responsible for first aid on crew adventures, medical updates, and, as needed, medical advice.

I shall write an article to appear in the Pilot every month or so. They will address health concerns, health issues as they pertain to 20th Century living, and discuss health and medical advances as they are developed.

My current status: I have joined Starfleet and am waiting for my packet. I have assembled a top-of-the-line first aid kit, one which I am certain will come in handy (but one I hope never to fully utilize). I have taken some courses in first aid both at our local Red Cross and at CVCC. I am trained in CPR and I hope to take up more training in advanced first aid later this year.

I also plan to enroll in Officers Training School (OTS) by the first of the year. I will train someone if needed to take my place as acting Medical Officer in case I become incapacitated or are unable to fulfill my duties. Any volunteers?

My vitals: I am married and have one 2 year old daughter. Ashlev Gordon. I am 27 years old and HEY! Do not forget! There will be no meeting at the Burger King in November. Instead the DaVinci will be having its annual Thanksgiving get together.

Did you catch the “Hooch” Helpers on the front page of the 21 October Columbus Times?

ENS Karen Baker has devised a plan whereby all who want a uniform can easily attain one at a relatively low price. We have some patterns and material will be obtained locally. The dickeys will be purchased at cost from Parisian’s. All that needs to be done is to put the uniform together!

CMDR Connie Heller has a proposal for the cadets, but she is not—REPEAT, NOT—volunteering for the position of Cadet Corps Commander. If the cadets would like to write their own Star Trek play and make puppets to perform it at some upcoming event, she will sponsor and supervise. Let her know!

STOP THE PRESSES! I just got off the telephone with the director of the Edgewood Senior Center. We are on the schedule for using the facility on the 22nd of November! Our Thanksgiving get together will begin at 1:00 P.M. We will have the building until 4:00 P.M.. After
