FROM THE CENTER SEAT

Hold on to your seats because this is really great news! It concerns the Overseas Coupon Project and the amount of donations so far this year. As you know, last year the DaVinci came in third place in the Starfleet wide program. We donated over $107,000 in coupons. The first place ship donated over $158,000 in coupons. Due in large part to Crmn Randy Dunn and Lt Gisela Stevens' generous contributions, the DaVinci so far has donated nearly $207,000 – and it is only August! Not only are we leading all of Starfleet, there is no ship that is even close to catching us! Okay, this does not mean we can relax. We need more contributions from crewmembers. How about trying to reach the $300,000 level!! What an accomplishment that would be.

Some more good news! Our shuttle the Shadow Hawk, commanded by Cmdr Josh Ainsworth, has met all the necessary requirements and has been recommended for ship status! Soon a brand new starship, the USS Shadow Hawk will be on patrol in the Phenix City sector! It has been a long and sometimes harrowing year and most of the credit has to go to Josh. He never gave up fighting for those 10 Starfleet members needed for ship status. Our little shuttle is almost a ship. Sounds like a good excuse for a party! Hooha!

I know there are several of you who are planning on attending the Vulkan convention in Atlanta over the Labor Day weekend. If so, I sure could use a review for a future issue of the Pilot. Give me your thoughts on the guests, the hotel facilities, the dealer's room, or anything else that you feel like writing on. I would be going but Cpt Joe Perry and myself will be attending the Starfleet International Conference in Burlington, VT.

Plans are still on the board for us to be on the early show on WTVM. I still need a few volunteers (especially those with uniforms) who do not mind getting up REAL early to be there no later than 5:30 in the morning! All of this for only 2 minutes of airtime! As I said before, though the time may be short, the exposure we get cannot hurt.

TREK BUZZ

Voyager was nominated this year in these technical categories: Outstanding Costumes for a Series ("The Muse"); Outstanding Hairstyling for a Series ("Dragon's Teeth"); Outstanding Makeup for a Series ("Ashes to Ashes"); Outstanding Music Composition for a Series ("Spirit Folk"); Outstanding Sound Editing for a Series ("Equinox Part II"); Outstanding Special Visual Effects for a Series (both "Life Line" and "The Haunting of Deck Twelve").

Paramount announced that the writer of the next film will be John Logan, known for his work on the films "Bats", "RKO 281", "Any Given Sunday", and "Gladiator". Contradicting an earlier report, Zap2It.com reported that Paramount has not yet decided whether the new Trek television series will be on UPN or be syndicated.

Should the new TV series be a UPN show, or be syndicated? Cast your vote at <http://www.alxpoll.com/cgi-bin/poll.cgi?user=330579>.

Production on the final season of Voyager started on June 22nd. Upcoming episodes in production for the new season include "Imperfection" (wrapping the plot line of the Borg children), "Drive" (Paris and Torres enter the Delta Flyer in a race, and "Critical Care" (the Doctor is stolen to work on an inhumane hospital ship).

William Shatner received a star on Canada's Walk of Fame on June 23rd.

Avery Brooks was at the July 4th "Pops Go The Fourth" celebration in Boston. He narrated a portion of the program that paid tribute to President Lincoln.

Martha Hackett (Seska) gave birth to her second little boy, so congratulations are in order!

Tim Russ attended this year's UFO Celebration in Roswell, New Mexico, over the July 4th holiday.

Word is that the new series has been approved by Paramount's Kerry McCluggage, head of television productions and is a sort of 'Birth of the Federation' concept with a 'Braga-esque' twist. What's the twist? Well, apparently a traveler from the 29th century goes back in time to stop the founding of the Federation. This is supposed to relieve the problem that an entire series based on the beginning of the Federation would be pre-ordained. (Thanks to the Chase List for the information.)

Chase Masterson (Leeta) has been cast in the lead role of the film "Lightning", an action-adventure planned for a 2001 release.

Thanks to Dateline: Starfleet for the info!

VOYAGER'S FINAL SEASON

Rick Berman spoke about the final season of Voyager, saying that the series will conclude either with the U.S.S. Voyager returning home, or remaining lost in the Delta Quadrant. "There are a great number of repercussions in either scenario," he said, pointing out that the fates of certain characters come into question if they reach Earth. For example, what will happen to the Maquis crewmembers who are outlaws to the Federation, the Doctor whose holographic program has far exceeded its original design, and Seven of Nine, whose Borg heritage will be of great interest to Starfleet? If the crew remains stuck on the other side of the galaxy, Berman said, "there are numerous interrelationships between our characters that might be dealt with in very unique ways."

Berman promised that fans can expect some major surprises from Star Trek: Voyager in the next year. "I would always like to believe that, with one season left, the best episodes are yet to come," he said.
