MAY 2006

FROM THE CENTER SEAT

There will be a lot of exciting things happening this spring! Make sure that you can make it to most if not all of the events. From the end of April to the end of May something will be taking place nearly every weekend! Some of the dates have changed since they were first announced at the April meeting so please take note. Okay, here we go.

First, on the 22nd of April we will have a “Dune Viewing Party.” The original Dune has finally come out on DVD and what better way to celebrate this than to have a viewing party at my house. The party will begin at 6:30 PM so come early. Only snacks will be provided so make sure you eat before you come. And, bring your own drinks. It is possible that a break can be taken sometime during the 4-hour movie to order some more substantial but that is up to those in attendance. The movie will start at precisely 6:30 PM so do not be late!

Next, there will be a “My Least Favorite Original Series Episode” mini marathon. This will take place on 06 May beginning at 5:30 PM. The club will spring for the pizza but there will be a donation jar to help off set the cost. Bring your own drinks. Now, for this to really work, you must send me a list of your ten least favorite The Original Series (TOS) episodes in the order in which you dislike them. So, the first one listed would be you least favorite TOS episode, the next one your second least favorite, all the way to number 10 which would be your 10th least favorite episode. The results will be tabulated and the top 5 TOS episodes voted by the crew will be shown at the mini marathon! Now, even if you cannot make it to the viewing, please send me your list anyway. Email your list to me (uss.davinci@knology.net), mail it to me, or give me a call. I will take your list up until 6:00 PM, Friday evening, 05 May. To help you out, a complete list of all the TOS episodes can be found at the end of this issue of the Pilot. Have fun figuring out which ones you dislike!

Next, on the 21st of May a very sad “Charmed Mourning Party” will take place at my house. Yes, the beloved and sexy Halliwell sisters will be leaving the air for good (except in syndication). It is hard to believe that the “Charmed Ones” have been kicking demon butt for 9 years! The final episode is called “Forever Charmed” and all your favorite characters will be making an appearance. This includes Leo (Brian Krause), Victor (James Read), Mom Halliwell (Fiola Hughes), Chris (Drew Fuller), Grams (Jennifer Rhodes), and Wyatt as an adult (Ivan Sergei and Wes Ramsey). So what about Prue (Shannen Doherty), your Captain’s favorite and departed sister? Sadly, no. Only the mention of the name “Prue” will be mentioned. Anyway, the final episode of Charmed will be broadcast on Sunday, 21 May, beginning at 8:00 PM. Snacks (chips, etc) will be available and I believe Connie has graciously agreed to make her delicious wraps just for the occasion. Unfortunately Connie and the kids will be in Orlando getting ready to enjoy a week at Universal Studios and Island of Adventure. I cannot go because of work (sigh, again!). Be at my house around 7:30 PM to grab your favorite spot in the television room be it the couch or the floor!

What better way to say goodbye to May than to have a membership drive at the Columbus Game and Hobby Expo! That is right; the next iteration of the event will take place on Friday 26 May (3:00-11:00 PM) and Saturday 27 May (10:00 AM-11:00 PM). As stated above we will be having a membership drive table so naturally I will be needing some volunteers to help man the table and give fellow crew member Dutch Cummings and his crew a hand at what ever they need. I especially need those who have uniforms or DaVinci apparel.

Wow! Talk about a busy month!

On the first day of April the DaVinci had only their second away mission to the Lee County Flea Market to surprise fellow shipmates Frazier Smith and Vanessa Winfield at their business, the Snack Shack. Five DaVinci personnel met at the Home Depot in Phenix City and car pooled to the site. Along with myself and Ariana there was Randy Dunn, Benlee Huguley, and Park Scully. We arrived about 9:30 AM and sure enough Frazier and Vanessa were quite surprised to see us.

Of course this will sound like a commercial and that is precisely what it is, but the Snack Shack has a large variety of tasty foods ranging from sausage and bacon biscuits, to egg platters, to cheese grits (absolutely yummy), to hot dogs and hamburgers, to nearly everything in between.

Frazier and Vanessa in front of the Snack Shack.

In addition to all the delicious food they also have a variety of drinks to wash down the yummy food. In another section of the flea market they have another table set up that is devoted to a variety of freshly baked cookies, cakes, and pies. I am sure that if you sweet talk Frazier he will give you a sample of just about anything to tempt your pallet! Chocolate is my big downfall and it sure got the best of me when Frazier showed me something they call a "triple chocolate cheese cake." It sounded so decadent that I ended up getting one. All I can say is that it was unbelievably delicious! It sure did not last long when the other members of the Heller clan also tasted it! I am quite positive that another one of those triple chocolate cheese cakes will be in my future. Anyway, make sure you pay Frazier and Vanessa a visit. Buy lots of goodies but the triple chocolate cheese cakes are mine! A BIG Bajoran thanks to all who came out for this special away mission!

Finally, I need to correct a wrong. I should have thanked someone who took over a position within the ship a couple months ago but completely forgot. So, I would like to thank Benlee Huguley for taking over the reigns as Communications Chief. Notice I did not say Communications Officer. Since Benlee has not yet joined Starfleet (but I am slowly working on him) he feels it is inappropriate to call him an Officer. So, Chief it is! The next time you see Benlee at any DaVinci event feel free to call him "Chief." I am sure he would appreciate it.

Many memberships in the DaVinci and Fleet are getting ready to or already have expired. Check your name below. If highlighted in red you are expired or nearing expiration. Please renew. Thanks.

EXECUTIVELY SPEAKING

Greetings once again from your friendly neighborhood XO and Ship's Counselor and as of the 10th of April, 2006, the Acting Chaplains Director, Chaplains and Counselors Resource for Starfleet! I was contacted by the powers that be and asked if I would accept an acting position for the moment and I gladly accepted the opportunity to serve Starfleet in a higher capacity. Looks like the USS DaVinci is rapidly growing with staff members in some type of fleet-level position, whether past or present, and I am glad to see the dedication and representation from our ship. Live long and prosper, USS DaVinci! Okay, here is the continued information on Transporter Technology began in last month's Pilot:

Safety Protocols and Components

As with other Starfleet operations the transporter had its own safety protocols to ensure a safe usage. In case of emergency most of these protocols could be turned off or circumvented. Bio-filters were uniformly used on all Federation transporters by the 24th century. These filters were always functional to prevent the boarding of strange biological entities such as viruses and pathogens as well as some forms of radiation including theta radiation. Bio-filters; however, were not capable of intercepting the psychic energy of life forms and in several instances this has allowed hostile entities to gain access to starships and crew. Bio-filters were also unable to detect living organisms that existed within the phased reality of the transporter but once altered could be used to lock unto such life forms. Additionally, pattern buffers were used to compensate for relative motion during transport, ensuring that transported matter materialized in the correct location. Further protocols include prohibitions on beaming while traveling at warp speed and the use of security scans to detect weapons or remat detonators, which could be disabled before re-materialization. Other diagnostic and maintenance tools along with additional system components included (here comes the techno-blab) Synchronic Meter, Magneton Scanner, Micro-resonator, Parametric Scanner, Test Cylinder, Targeting Scanner, Phase Transition Coil and Molecular Imaging Scanner. More detailed information on these components can be found on the internet at www.memory-alpha.org [ed.'s note, Memory Alpha is a wonderful site for all kind of things Trek. Check it out.]

Beam me up, Scotty!

COMMUNICATIONS CORNER

Hello! My name is Benlee Huguley and I am the DaVinci's new Communication Chief. Figured I'd make my first article submission an introduction. Born in Virginia but raised in East Tennessee, I am the son of a United Methodist minister originally from Columbus and a first-grade teacher originally from Cleveland, Tennessee. A resident of the Auburn/Columbus area since 1988, I have taught French at Central High School in Phenix City for the last 13 years. I got both my BS in Education (French and Sociology) and my Masters of French Studies from Auburn University.

My main interest is travel (sublunary travel for the moment); Atlanta, Washington D.C., Louisiana, the Gulf Coast, and French-speaking Europe are among my favorite destinations. Huguley is a rather unusual name: I discovered when doing some genealogical research that all those of Huguley blood come from a small ancestral village in French-speaking Switzerland where I have now spent much time with distant relatives I met; except for the mountains, perhaps it is not very different from La Barre, France. Genealogy is obviously another interest, one that I haven't pursued in a while. Benlee, too, is an unusual name; it is a combination name, Ben coming from 4 generations on my father's side of the family, Lee the same from my mothers'.

Naturally I'm also a Sci-Fi fan, especially a fan of Star Trek. I became captivated by the series as a child watching the re-runs in the seventies and have been 'hooked' ever since. The philosophy and social commentary in the show are of the most interest to me. My favorite of the series is The Next Generation, followed by The Original Series, Deep Space Nine, and Voyager. I also like the films (Star Trek IV being my favorite film of all time), the animated series, and some episodes of Enterprise that I've seen. My favorite characters in each series (in order of favorite series) are Picard, Spock, Garak, and the Doctor respectively.

I look forward to getting to know each of you! If you wish to learn more about me, you are welcome to visit my narrated site of France pictures at http://www.mindspring.com/~the_guru/2000/index.htm. My Myers-Briggs personality type is eNFj (teacher), for those familiar with that assessment; if you're not, try taking the free personality test at <http://similar minds.com/jung.html> which seems to always give the same results as the Myers-Briggs.

In the future, there's no telling what kind of articles I'll submit; unpredictability keeps things fresh. I welcome your suggestions.

Beam in' out for now.

Chief Benlee Huguley

COMMUNITY SERVICE

We had a pretty small turn-out for one of our highway clean-ups. Not surprising, however, since it was raining! I would like to thank Freddy and Ariana, Lech, and Joe for making the effort to come out on a wet Saturday morning for breakfast and a bit of DaVinci socializing. I scheduled a make-up date but the turn-out for that one was so small that we had to cancel it even though the weather was perfect. Thanks to Freddy, Ariana, and Benlee for coming by. I will be scheduling another clean-up soon. Hopefully the turn out will be better.

NEWS FROM FLEET

The Starfleet International Conference (IC) is just 4 months away! This year the IC will take place from 04-06 August in historic Philadelphia, PA. Right now, Joe Perry, Russell Ruhland, and I are the only ones definitely attending. I would love to see more folks from the DaVinci go. I realize that it is a long way to travel and you may be short on funds but Joe and Russell are driving up and all three of us are staying in the same room. So if you wish to go you might be able to catch a ride with them and you are sure welcomed to stay with us at the hotel. Just bring a sleeping bag, blanket, or other item to keep you comfortable. Check out sfi.org for all the latest information on the IC and be sure to let us know if you can make it.

TREK AND SCI FI BUZZ

The following article was written by William Ferchland (14 April 2006) of the Tahoe Daily Tribune, South Lake Tahoe, CA and is reprinted here with his kind permission.

Anthropology Course to Teach Everything 'Star Trek'

"Study long and prosper" might be one mantra used in Daryl Frazetti's anthropology of "Star Trek" class for the upcoming spring quarter at Lake Tahoe Community College.

Frazetti is more than able to teach the anthropological aspects of one of the most-followed television and movie series in pop culture history.

Frazetti, 33, has watched the series since he began puberty. He has attended at least 100 "Star Trek" conventions since he went to his first in 1989. Two documentaries detailing the uniqueness of the series' following, "Trekkies" and "Trekkies 2," have featured Frazetti.

To top it off, Frazetti was interviewed by William Shatner, who played James T. Kirk in the original series and movies, in Shatner's book "Get a Life!" regarding the following of the program and its many offshoots.

A teacher on past subjects such as environmental science and physical anthropology (which he will also teach at LTCC during the spring quarter), Frazetti has never taught a course solely on "Star Trek." He has used examples of it in his teachings, he said.

"It's going to be quite the course," Frazetti said.

Depending on funding, two guest speakers are penciled to drop in on the one-day-a-week class: Richard Arnold, an assistant to the creator of "Star Trek," and Roger Nygard, director and editor of both documentaries.

In a course description, Frazetti stated one doesn't need to be a fan of the series to "appreciate the break this course offers from your daily routine."

Reading more of what's in store for students of the class, the "break" doesn't seem like a vacation.

"Using select television episodes and feature films, this course will examine the significance of the cultural, historical, social and evolutionary nature of the human condition within the context of a futuristic setting, along with the underlying perspectives on politics, philosophy, ethics science and (the) future of humanity," the description finishes.

For example, case studies will be done on different races in the "Star Trek" world. Vulcan rituals will be discussed. Ferengi, the "capitalists" of the Trek galaxy, are scheduled to be addressed May 11. That day will also feature a case study on the slave-trading Orions.

A May 25 class will feature an episode from "Star Trek: The Next Generation" deemed the "gay episode" by Frazetti, since it focuses on a race without gender.

"Using 'Star Trek' examples breaks down a lot of barriers," Frazetti said.

College anthropology chair Scott Lukas envisions similar classes on pop culture. He cited courses on reality television, eBay and video games as examples.

"I think it's an important opportunity to offer a course like this," Lukas said.

TABULATIONS

We had so much fun at the pie party that we are going to do it again! So if you missed out getting to pie Russell or me here is your chance to win that honor this year. But wait! Not only will you be able to pie the two of us, you might even get to pie one of the Senior Staff! If we can collect 100,000 by 31 December of this year, the entire Senior Staff (consisting of the Captain, First Officer, Operations Officer, Science Officer, and Engineering Officer) will be pied. The finer points of the contest like who gets to pie whom or what if a position is vacant has not yet been decided. This will not be an easy task because it took us nearly 2 years to reach 100,000 tabs. Then again, once the contest was announced, over 30,500 tabs were collected in only 3 months! So start saving those tabs and you too may get to "SPLAT" your favorite officer.

Here are the numbers so far:

NIGHT OUT LOCATIONS

At the December Christmas party, the 2006 Night Out locations were selected. We had some familiar locations and some new spots as well. So without further ado, here are the remaining 2006 locations. Bon appetite!

June	El Zapata (Veteran's Parkway)
July	Chili's
August	Panera Bread Company
September	Jumbo China
October	New China Buffet
November	Moe's
December	Zaxby's
(Alternate)	Country's at Main Street Village

Congratulations to, CPT Freddy, the winner of the free dinner at the Longhorn Steak House during the April Night Out!

DaVINCI T-SHIRTS & POLOS

We are swiftly running out of shirts! If you want one you better act quickly before your size is gone. We have no extra large or XX left, only small, medium, and large. Several of you have approached me about obtaining a DaVinci polo shirt. I will be happy to place another order but again I need more than just one or two. So, if you want a new DaVinci polo shirt, let me know the size you want and whether you want a red (operations), blue (science), or yellow (engineering) trim on the DaVinci logo. Remember, they do run slightly large. The cost should be around $22-$27 depending on the size (XX and up are slightly higher). If you want extra printing on the shirt, such as your name or position, that too will run you a few extra credits.

MEMBERSHIPS

Many of you do not know when your membership in the DaVinci or Starfleet is due for renewal. So to help you remember, here are your expiration dates:

THE USS DAVINCI IN PHOTOS

I thought everyone would enjoy a look down memory lane. Each month I will show a series of photographs from our very beginning, as the Shuttle DaVinci, up until the present time. Many of you will remember these faces. To others they will be complete strangers. But, they made what the USS DaVinci is today. Enjoy! Reminisce.
