PASSAGES

StarTrek.com is saddened to report that William Schallert -- veteran character actor, former president of the Screen Actors Guild and Star Trek: The Original Series and Star Trek: Deep Space Nine guest star -- has passed away at the age of 93. Schallert, who died on Sunday, May 8, in Pacific Palisades, California, is best remembered by Trek fans for his role as Nilz Baris in the wildly popular TOS episode "The Trouble with Tribbles." Schallert later turned up, via archive footage, as Baris in the DS9 hour "Trials and Tribble-ations," and then in another full-fledged guest star spot as Varani in the DS9 episode "Sanctuary."

Schallert as Nilz Baris in "Trouble With Tribbles" and as Varani in "Sanctuary"

Beyond his Star Trek roles, he played Patty Duke's father on the classic sitcom The Patty Duke Show, appeared in many stage productions and was a familiar face in countless TV series and movies. Just a partial list of his credits includes the original Mighty Joe Young, Bonanza, The Dick Van Dyke Show, The Incredible Shrinking Man, Father Knows Best, Get Smart, Pillow Talk, In the Heat of the Night, Lou Grant, The Six Million Dollar Man, The Twilight Zone, The Partridge Family, The Strongest Man in the World, Twilight Zone: The Movie, Innerspace, Quantum Leap, Matinee, Melrose Place, Desperate Housewives, How I Met Your Mother, and True Blood.

StarTrek.com spoke to Schallert in 2011. He was still acting, full of positive energy and very much of sound mind. And it was clear he appreciated his association with Star Trek. "People sure have known me from (the show) for a long time," he said. "They knew who I was on that show before I knew who I was on that show. I was invited to a very early Star Trek convention that was held at the Marriott Hotel at the airport (in L.A.). I arrived there and went through the door into the main lobby, and it was loaded with aliens, with little antennae bouncing around on their heads. As I came through the door, they were saying, 'Nilz Baris!' I'm looking around and they said, 'No, that's you!' So that's how I learned my name from that show. There was no signing of autographs there. I was making a personal appearance. And there was a kid there who was, at the most, eight or nine. He had six months to live and he was in a wheelchair, and this was the most important thing he could do in the last six months of his life, coming to this Star Trek convention. I thought, 'Wow, this is amazing. This show has a real hold on people.' He was thrilled to be there. He was being wheeled around and shaking hands with people. I was thinking, 'He's going to die, and this is the thing he had to do before he died.' It tells you something about the show."

Schallert's wife since 1949, Rosemarie, passed away last year. He is survived by their four sons, Edwin, Joseph, Mark and Brendan, as well as seven grandchildren. Please join StarTrek.com in offering condolences to Schallert's family, friends, colleagues and many fans.

FROM THE CENTER SEAT

May was one of the busiest months for the DaVinci in quite a while. There was the Star Wars movie showing on May 4th; Free Comic Book Day on the 7th; the Ronald McDonald House volunteer appreciation celebration on the 14th; the Night Out on the 16th; Fan Fest on the 21st; and the "ABCDE" get together on the 24th! Whew!

The fun began early with the showing of the new Star Wars movie at my house on Star Wars Day (May 4th). Ten DaVinci personnel gathered around my television to watch the movie and feast on Death Star barbeque meatballs, Hoth rings (powdered donuts), and tortilla chips with two kinds of dips. Several folks had not seen the movie before and thoroughly enjoyed watching it. A BIG Bajoran thanks to all who attended. Check out the photos below for all the fun.

Lech, Lisa, and Joe wait in the kitchen for the rest of the folks to arrive.

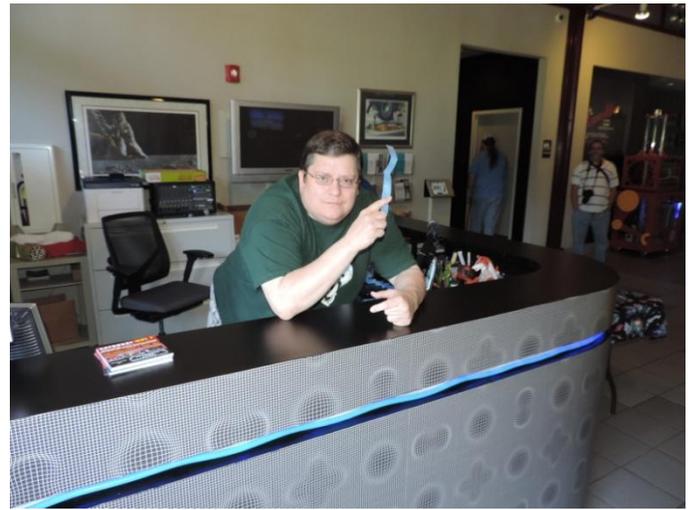

Ariana and Todd, sitting next to the goodies, enjoy the movie.

Yonah watches Mathew, who is mesmerized by the movie, and the DaVinci crew!

A few days later was the annual Free Comic Book Day sponsored by Columbus Book Exchange and held at the Coca-Cola Space Science Center. The DaVinci had a membership drive table set up and there were quite a number of folks who dropped by to find out more about us and to have their picture taken with members of the crew, all of whom were in uniform. I passed out several membership applications and will just have to wait and see if anyone joins. One very exciting thing did happen. A gentleman dropped by the table and I began to give him the lowdown on the DaVinci, where we meet, what we do, etc. When I mentioned that we collect tabs for the Ronald McDonald House, he mentioned that he had some at home that he would gladly donate to the cause. I told him I would be glad to pick them up but he insisted on going home and bringing them to me. After he left I really did not expect to see him again and was quite surprised when he returned with a huge plastic jug full of tabs! Several day later I counted them and the total came to 6,550 tabs! Normally the rule is if I have to count your donation I get credit for the tabs but in this case the donation came from outside the DaVinci. So as a reward for helping out at the table during Free Comic Book day I will give each person a 500-tab credit! About 2:30 PM we broke down the table and headed home. A BIG Bajoran thanks to Dutch for allowing us to have a table and to all the DaVinci folks who helped out: Jeff and Martha, Russell and Diane, and David and Yonah with Mathew! Check out the photos below for all the fun you missed.

Handing out tickets to the first folks through the door and, "Do you have your door prize ticket?"

Jeff and David chat with a potential new member and Melanie helps out Pat in the comic room.

Pat rings up Yonah's purchase while Linna and Mathew look on and Martha checks out Russell's Admiral Marcus uniform.

Jeff chats with Linna and RJ and Russell and Diane pose for a candid shot.

Russell chats with a potential new member and Jeff poses with Batman and Batgirl!

Freddy poses with the tab donator and chatting with a potential new member!

The DaVinci crew at the Free Comic Book Day membership drive table!

The next event was the Ronald McDonald House volunteer appreciation celebration that took place on Saturday, 14 May. Although technically not volunteers, the DaVinci is invited every year to attend this celebration which acknowledges all the hard working Ronald McDonald House volunteers. Normally Joe attends with me but due to the illness of his mother, Lech attended in his place. Just like last year the fare consisted of various cheese cubes and crackers, a variety of fruits (blackberries, raspberries, blueberries, watermelon, strawberries, and grapes); and a host of different kinds of desserts (including chocolate and red velvet cakes) plus coffee and tea. Once everyone had their fill of the delicious food, the volunteer awards were given out. The awards ranged from hours volunteered (100 – 2500); years volunteered (5 – 20) and Presidential certificates for number of hours volunteered.

The wonderful variety of snacks at the volunteer celebration.

More goodies and Lech and Freddy at the volunteer celebration!

May continued its busy march with a tremendous turnout for the Night Out/Membership meeting at the Olive Garden. It was uniform night and the DaVinci did not disappoint! Nearly everyone was in uniform much to the delight of the staff and guests of the Olive Garden. The record of 26 was broken as 29 DaVinci members and guests showed up to dine on Italian fare! The best dressed – if there was such an award – had to be Scott Roop who dressed up as a Vulcan or Romulan defector/spy in a TOS movie uniform! The service was a little slow but our server, Sierra, kept the drinks coming and considering the number of folks she had to handle did an outstanding job.

One of our newest members, David Craft, won the free meal drawing as well as one of the Captain's Perks a book donated by the author Michael Allen who, along with his daughter Brittanney, dropped by to have dinner with us. His first DaVinci get together and he wins twice! What luck! The other Captain's Perk, a DVD signed by Robert Picardo, was won by Randy.

Just like last year, a family who was dining in another section of the restaurant wanted to know if they could have their picture taken with some of the uniformed crew members. We certainly obliged. They were also big Star Trek fans and so I am hoping to hear from them before too long.

Check out the photos from the glorious evening of fun and good times.

Mathew and Yonah and Chris and Margaret wait to order.

Jeff and Martha check out the menu and guests Michael and Brittanney pose for the camera.

Diane and Russell also wait to order and so too does the Vulcan or Romulan spy/defector, Scott (also known as Sko'Tal) and Karl.

Joe and Hal pose for the camera while our server, Sierra, takes Lech's drink order and David waits his turn to order.

Next up to order drinks are Lisa and Adam and Gregory.

At the other end of the long table sat Todd while David and Freddy pose for a photo.

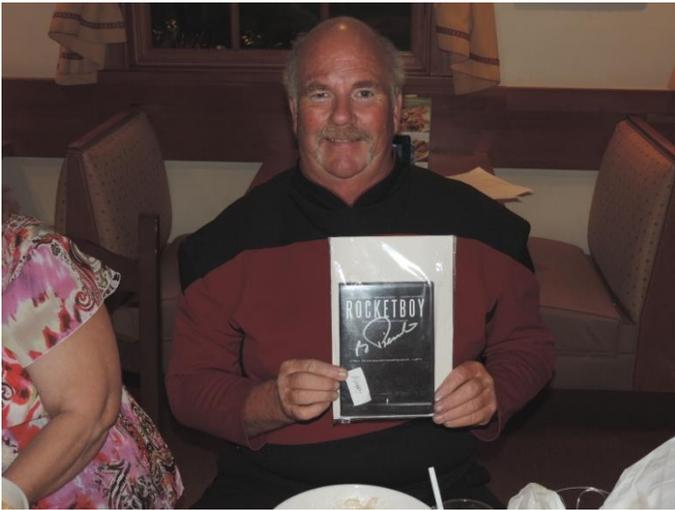

Sandye and Randy pose for a photo as to does Payton, and Tish.

Thelma and Kamron, one of her foster kids, smile for the camera and Freddy chats with Karl and Sko'Tal (aka Scott) while Joe looks on.

Russell chats with Margaret while Jeff chats to folks across the table and look what I won: David (free meal);

Randy (Robert Picardo autographed DVD) and David (sci-fi book).

The crew of the DaVinci at the Olive Garden during the May Night Out/Membership Meeting!

Posing with other Olive Garden guests are Russell, Jeff, Scott, Joe, Randy, Freddy, and Lech!

Next on tap was the annual Fan Fest sponsored by and held at the main Columbus Library. We had our usual membership drive table and were supposed to do a panel on Star Trek but the folks at the library did not include us in the schedule. Ten DaVinci crew personnel showed up to lend a hand and the costume of the day (I really need to come up with some sort of award/prize for this) had to be Russell in his Klingon garb. He certainly was one of the hits of the day as many folks (especially the young tots) had fun with his persona. Although it was a long day, it was worth it as we picked up two additional members making a total of 70 crew personnel aboard the USS DaVinci! A BIG Bajoran thanks to all the folks who came help. Here are some photos for your enjoyment.

Some of the crew just before the opening bell of Fan Fest and our youngest member (Mathew) poses with our eldest (Martha)

David and Jeff pose and so too does Yonah and Chris.

Russell in his Klingon costume and our resident author, Michael, sells his first book of the day.

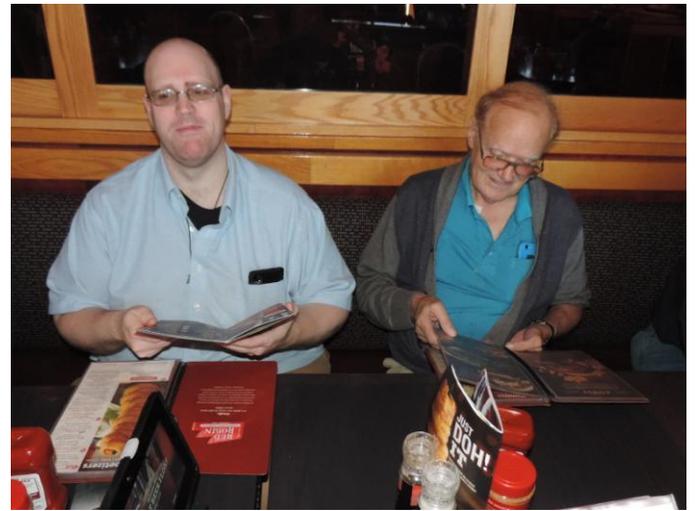

And then sells his second book of the day as Jeff looks on and the DaVinci crew at Fan Fest!

Well, the final event of May was our annual “ABCDE” dinner at Red Robin and boy what a turn-out we had! We never had more than 10 folks join in on the birthday celebrations but this year 18 showed up! The food was great but the check-out process was a complete disaster. It took way too long to get our bill and it had to be done twice because of an error in who received what drink. Nonetheless, all had a good time including the five individuals whose birthdays fell in May and who received free ice cream sundaes! The worst part of the evening was that they had no Guinness on tap for Lech and me to savor! For some awful reason they will only be carrying the “black stuff” during certain times of the year. A horrendous crime to be sure.

Thanks should go out to Jeff and Martha who gave Russell and me birthday cards and, of course, a BIG Bajoran thanks goes out to all who attended this fun-filled event. Check out some of the photos from the “ABCDE” to see what you missed.

Diane and Russell and Martha and Jeff check out the menu.

Joe and Todd pose for a photo while Adam and Lech figure out what to order.

The Red Robin manger takes Russell's order while our server, Bree, takes Sandra's order.

While waiting for the food to arrive, Russell gives Diane one of his strawberries and Chris plays a video game.

And Joe opens a drug store while Todd and Adam chat about anything sci-fi related!

The birthday folks enjoying their ice cream: Jeff (15th) and Russell (25th)

And so too does Sandra (11th) and Lisa N. (12th)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ALL!

The DaVinci crew at Red Robin for the annual "ABCDE" get together!

Whew! It was quite a busy month indeed. Next month will be just the opposite. Besides the Night Out/Membership meeting at the Longhorn Steakhouse; the only other event planned is a showing of Star Trek Renegades. No date has been selected, but keep watching your email for an announcement.

One final thing, Todd wanted me to pass along the information that the Video Stop on Whittlesey Blvd is in the process of closing and is having a sale on their inventory. Now seems to be a good time to pick up that movie or television show you have wanted.

Until the next time - engage!

ADM Freddy Heller

NEWS YOU CAN USE!

The new rates for membership in Starfleet are in place and are a pretty good deal. NOTE: There are no more paper memberships available. All memberships are electronic (via email). If you are thinking of joining Fleet but the expense was too high now you can get your membership for much less money. Not only will you save money there, but your membership in the DaVinci is half off as well (up to a $7.50 savings!) and you are automatically promoted to Acting Ensign!. The new membership rates are: Individual - $10; Family of 2 - $15; Family of 3 - $17; Family of 4 - $19; Add $2.00 for each additional family member. If you are not in Starfleet, please give some thought about joining this great organization!

TABULATIONS

Thanks to a great donation of tabs by a gentleman at the Free Comic Book day our total is slowly rising. Everyone who worked the table at Free Comic Book day received 500 tabs as a thank-you. Unfortunately we are still way behind where we were last year at this time (32,433 tabs). Remember, the tabs can come off any type can from pop to cat food to dog food to soup! Ask your neighbors to save tabs for you; ask your church or other social group to save tabs. You will be surprised as to how many tabs you can collect that way. Here are the current totals as of press time:

Starting Balance	000
Freddy Heller	5790
Scott Roop	2868
Jeff Kirkland	2000
Gregory Newer	1632
Martha Kirkland	500
Russell Ruhland	500

USS DAVINCI IN PICTURES

The following is a trip down the USS DaVinci memory lane. Each month I will show a series of photographs from our very beginning, as the Shuttle DaVinci, up until the present time. Many of you will remember these faces. To others they will be complete strangers. But, they made the USS DaVinci what it is today. Reminisce. If you have any photographs that you would like to see published in the Pilot, feel free to send them to me with a brief explanation as to who is in the photo and when and where it was taken. If I get a name wrong, please let me know! Okay, here is Part 1 of our Away Mission to the USS Robins!

Bill and Barbara prepare the snack table for the Robins and DaVinci crews.

Jeff signs in while Lech waits his turn and members of the USS Robins.

A Robins crewmember gives the Vulcan hand salute and Barbara and Bill at the Robins table.

Next Month, Part II of the DaVinci Away Mission to the USS Robins.
