UPCOMING DAVINCI EVENTS

*15 August, Night Out and Membership Meeting, Speakeasy Pub, 7:00 PM

THE INTERNATIONAL
STAR TREK FAN ASSOCIATION, INC.

FROM THE CENTER SEAT

July was a busy month with the 4th of July Party, the Night Out, and our membership drive tables at Carmike 15 and Hollywood Connection theaters. I was not quite sure if our 4th of July party was a go or not because with just a few days before the scheduled event I had only 4 folks confirmed that they would be attending. So I decided to send out one more reminder with a notation that I would either have to postpone or cancel the get-together. That must have stirred some juices because the confirmations began pouring in and by the time Saturday of the party rolled around we had 16 confirmed that they would attend.

As usual the DaVinci bought the hamburger and hot dogs and the rest of the goodies came from the attendees. Randy brought his mac and cheese. Russell brought potato logs, macaroni salad, and potato salad, Todd his baked beans, Lisa M. her deviled eggs, Lisa N. a vegetable tray, Gregory some coleslaw, Joe lots of pop, Sandra brought a pizza, and Jeff some kind of pound cake. Connie and I contributed buns, ice cream, and a chess pie (made just for Jeff). The food was plentiful and quite delicious as the hungry crew of the DaVinci dug in after Russell said the blessing.

Once everyone had had their fill, we had the usual door prize drawings. Wilbert did the first drawing and lo and behold he drew his mom, Sandra's name! She was the winner of a couple DVDs, Rocketboy and Revenge minus the autograph covers (which are in my collection). The next drawing was for a copy of the DVD Revenge which included the autographed cover signed by Robert Picardo, the Doctor from Voyager. Since Sandra won the first drawing we had her draw for the second prize and unbelievable as it sounds she drew Wilbert's name!

Shortly after that folks slowly began departing for home with the last few leaving around 6:00 PM. We had a great time and if you were not there you missed some good food, good fun, and good times. Check out some photos below from the party.

Todd and Randy count tabs and Joe, Lisa M. Gregory, Chris, Russell, and Diane in the food line.

Russell helps himself to some deviled eggs and Chris hits the veggie tray while Lisa M waits her turn and Gregory waits to cut in.

Waiting for the line to get smaller are Lisa N., Randy, Steve and Martha and Jeff.

Randy and Connie chat until the line gets smaller while Jeff, Martha, Steve, Lisa, and Joe finally hit the food line.

Eating in the dining room are Randy, Steve, Lisa, Connie, Diane, Russell, Todd, and Gregory while in the kitchen enjoying their food are Jeff, Martha, Joe, Lisa M, Chris, and Freddy.

Look what we won! Sandra (DVDs) and Wilbert (Robert Picardo signed DVD of Revenge)

The DaVinci crew at our 18th annual 4th of July party!

Following the 4th of July party was our monthly Night Out/Membership meeting at the Cannon Brew Pub in downtown Columbus. We had a very special guest in attendance as our Starfleet Regional Coordinator Ryan Case and his lovely wife Ann drove all the way from Jackson, MS to join in on the fun! They arrived several hours early and I took them to the Best Western Plus hotel off Veteran's Parkway which will be the site of the 2017 Region 2 Summit. Ryan was very impressed with the facilities, saying that it is the nicest hotel for a Summit that he has seen.

Seventeen crew personnel attended the Night Out to welcome our esteemed visitors and to enjoy the good food at the Cannon Brew Pub. I had only one Captain's Perk to give away at the beginning of the day - my last signed copy of Rocketboy - but when Ariana came home from work (she works at the Space Science Center) she brought with her a 20th anniversary Space Science Center t-shirt and four passes for the center - gifts from Dutch. Upon arriving at the Cannon Brew Pub, Russell handed me a bag of goodies he acquired from his recent attendance at the FanBoy convention. Finally, Michael gave me a copy of his newest book, Murder in Wizard's Wood. Along with the free meal drawing at least half of those in attendance would win something!

The service was exceptional! Our lone server, Summer, kept everyone's drinks full all while bringing out our orders and keeping the dirty dishes off the table.

Everyone was pleased with their meal with the possible exception of Gregory who complained that there were too many vegetables on his massive burger. Allow me to explain. There is a challenge at the Cannon Brew Pub called the Turning Blue Burger that if you can consume it within 30 minutes it is on the house and you get a nifty t-shirt about your exploits. This thing is huge! Check it out:

This explain what the contest is and Summer and another server show what Gregory had to eat in 30 minutes!

Nearly everyone was convinced that Gregory would do the DaVinci proud and be able to win one of those elusive t-shirts and have his name and picture forever immortalized on a television screen near the bar. Within 10 minutes he had consumed nearly half of the behemoth but his pace was noticeably slower as the remaining minutes ticked by. "Too many vegetables, too many vegetables," he mumbled between bites. He came close but, alas, the Turning Blue Burger, added another victim to its ever growing list. Here are a few photos of the attempt.

“Five, four, three, two, one...go!”, cried Summer and Gregory begins his quest for glory!

With little time left on the clock Gregory tries his best to finish but to no avail!

As time expired Gregory mentioned to Summer that had there been less vegetables and more meat and cheese, he probably could have finished it. I believe him.

After Gregory’s time had elapsed and folks were winding down with their meals, it was time for the free meal drawing as well as the drawings for all of the Captain’s Perks. We let the two guests of honor, Ryan and Ann, do the drawings. First up was for the free meal and the lucky winner was Todd! The Captain’s Perks were won by Todd (Bad Boys II mini poster), Ann (Captain America Super Soldier action figure), Joe (Murder in Wizard’s Woods book), Freddy (Space Science Center t-shirt), Ryan (Rocketboy autographed DVD), Michael (2 Space Science Center passes), and Scott (2 Space Science Center passes). Congratulations to all the winners!

COME FOR THE FOOD AND FRIENDSHIP!!

Summer takes drink orders from Todd, Ann, and Ryan and Russell is acting quite strange to an unsuspecting Diane!

Checking out the menu are Scott and mom, Joyce and Adam and Chris.

Posing for the camera are Lisa M., Todd and Ann and Ryan.

Jeff, Jessie, Martha and Gregory and Scott decide what to order.

Posing for a photo are Hal and Adam and Joe and Freddy.

So too does Brittanney and dad Michael and the DaVinci crew at the Cannon Brew Pub!

Look what we won! Todd (free meal), Todd again (Bad Boys II mini poster), Ann (Captain America action figure), Joe (Murder in Wizard's Woods book)

Freddy (Space Science Center t-shirt, Ryan (autographed Rocketboy DVD), Michael (2 passes to the Space Science Center), and Scott (2 passes to the Space Science Center)

While we were eating a terrific storm hit the downtown area bringing with it heavy rain and gusting winds up to 80 mph! Fortunately it was all over by the time we started breaking up and heading to our homes. Still, there was quite a bit of debris on the road from fallen limbs, none of which blocked any of the downtown streets.

We had a great time at our July Night Out/Membership meeting and a BIG Bajoran thanks must go out to Ryan and Ann who made the long trek from Jackson, MS (home of the USS Haise) to pay us a visit. And another BIG Bajoran thanks to all who attended this fun-filled event.

Next month we will be at the Speakeasy Pub off Auburn Avenue and Macon Road. The food is quite good and the prices are reasonable so please try to make it.

Until the next time - engage!

ADM Freddy Heller

STAR TREK BEYOND MEMBERSHIP DRIVE #1

Wow! What a long and very tiring weekend for the premiere of the new Star Trek movie. We had previously arranged to have a membership drive table at the Carmike 15 complex in Columbus Park Crossing, and then just a few days before we were to be there I received a call from Lisa Neal who informed me that the folks out at the Ritz 13 (aka Hollywood Connection) had called Pat at Columbus Book Exchange who in turn called Lisa who then called me wanting to know if we would set up a table there during the premiere! So with some hurried phone calls to both the manager and to Russell everything was set. Joe and I decided to work the Ritz 13 with Russell and others working the larger Carmike 15 complex.

The fun began at 11:30 AM on Friday morning. We were able to set up our table in a nice location where it would be hard for folks coming into the theater to miss us. The management moved a large Star Trek Beyond display right behind us covering up a large movie poster for another film. The management also decorated the theater with window paintings and a backdrop depicting the view screen and instrument panel from the Original Series. In front of this they placed two of their large reclining chairs making the whole display look like the bridge of the Enterprise!

After Joe and I set everything up one of the assistant managers began bringing out the goodies! First he gave both Joe and me one of those $20 popcorn buckets which we could refill as much as we wanted for only $4.00 (and it is good until the end of the year). He also gave us a couple Star Trek Beyond t-shirts, a stack of Star Trek Beyond mini posters like the one pictured above, and some small cups for unlimited pop refills at their fancy pop dispensers (Coke for you southerners).

Our table had the usual items on it and I also brought my computer and played the animated series all weekend (even had several folks drop by to watch it for a spell). Anyway, Friday morning and early afternoon was a bit slow although the movie did sell out all its showings. By late afternoon and early evening the place was packed with movie goers, most to see Star Trek Beyond. We had the usual curious folks drop by to see what we were all about but we also had four sign up for more information. Three of them were friends and each was wearing a different colored Star Trek tunic (actually, I saw several folks wearing some sort of “uniform” or t-shirt on both days)!

Connie (K'Lynn) dropped by dressed in her popular Klingon costume. Ariana accompanied her but was not in costume. Both stayed about 4 hours. Ariana was able to watch the movie and thought it was quite good. The late afternoon slowly turned into early evening and then into late evening as folks came and went, dropping by the table to chat and have their picture taken with us. Even folks from the theater got into the action! Joe had to leave around 9:00 PM and I stayed on until about 9:30 PM and might have stayed later but I was just too tired. After packing up the table items I headed home and pretty much crashed into bed and a well-earned night's sleep. Here are some photos from Day 1 of our membership drive:

Joe manning the membership drive table and the mock bridge in the lobby of the Ritz 13.

The Enterprise and Starfleet symbols adorning the exit doors and Joe and K'Lynn at the table.

Ariana playing Pokeman Go and then watching K'Lynn playing the same on her phone.

Guess which one may not make it out of the theater alive and a potential new member filling out an application!

Virginia Clark, our newest member fills out an application and Joe, Connie, and Freddy with some of the Ritz 13 staff!

Elliot, one of the managers, takes a selfie with Freddy and Freddy and Joe in the command chairs!

Saturday morning I struggled to get out of bed but by the time I got to the theater at 11:30 AM I was pretty much ready for another long but fun day. This time I rearranged our table setting slightly by hanging our banner and moving the table at more of an angle so it faced the front doors. Saturday was pretty much like Friday crowd wise but seemed to be a little busier in the late afternoon/early evening timeframe.

Leiko dropped by and stayed several hours and once Joe got back from watching the movie, the three of us chatted with the folks who dropped by to see what we were all about. About a half dozen of them had enough interest in the DaVinci to sign up to get more information. Hopefully some of them will decide to join our illustrious crew. There was even one gentleman who was not only in a chapter but was a former Starfleet member as well. I used all of my charm but could not quite convince him to join the DaVinci – “too busy” was his excuse. I did, however, get his name and email so I have not yet given up.

One interested couple from Fort Benning asked if I were given any of the larger Enterprise posters that the Carmike on Fort Benning had. After I said I did not, they said they would try to get me some and then left to see the film. Or so I thought because about 10 minutes later the same assistant manager who had given me all the goodies on Friday brought out a large unopened box of the very poster the couple (who came with him) described to me. He mumbled something about not remembering they had these. After opening the box he took a small amount out and said I could have the rest!

I had hoped to go in to see the movie but Joe had to go home to check up on his mom so I did not get a chance to see it myself. Later in the afternoon the pastor from our church dropped by with his fiancée and her daughter to see the movie. They came out with beaming smiles praising (no pun intended) the film and could not get over the great special effects.

Around 9:00 PM Joe left for home and I again stayed until 9:30 PM. As I slowly began putting things away, a guy came up to the table and we began talking. I did not have to tell him much about the DaVinci when he said “where do I sign up?” After filling out a membership application, Jonathan Jones handed me $10.00 and could not wait for the next DaVinci event.

Even though the days were long (10 hours each day) they were well worth it because we picked up a member on Friday and Saturday.

After I packed up everything I went to find one of the assistant managers to thank him for allowing us to be part of the Star Trek Beyond premiere weekend. After I thanked him he asked if I was given the free passes he mentioned early on Friday. I had completely forgotten about the offer and said as much to him. After loading the car I came back and was handed two tickets which never expire. When I got home and finally put everything away, I went to bed. I am sure I was asleep before my head hit the pillow!

STAR TREK BEYOND MEMBERSHIP DRIVE #2

Warp speed, Mr. Sulu! Nine of the inspired DaVinci crew made it over to the Carmike 15 in Columbus, GA to assist with our membership drive table during the premiere of Star Trek

Beyond on Friday evening, July 22, and, after a hearty breakfast at Golden Corral, all day Saturday. Friday evening turned out to be rather slow for us as only 4 movie goers placed their name on the sheet to receive more information about us and Starfleet. Saturday, on the other hand, turned out to be very busy as over 20 people left their email address for more information and 4 individuals actually filled out an application and joined the USS DaVinci crew! Quite a few people took a copy of our information sheet with them and I certainly hope that some of them will contact us later to join up.

We had a “galaxy” backdrop set up with cardboard stand ups of CPT Kirk and Mr. Spock with which many folks either took a picture with some of our uniformed helpers or just the kids or family by themselves. Jeff Kirkland brought his many “goodies” to place on display and Randy and Sandye made some cut out sparkly gold Delta Shield stickers to place on the movie goer’s shirts to help “advertise” the DaVinci and their love of Star Trek. The management and staff of the Carmike 15 were very kind to us and gave us some posters and cups commemorating the movie event.

David, Yonah, and Mathew pose with Kirk and Spock and Martha and Diane man the membership drive table.

Is that Mr. Spock with Kirk and Spock and Jeff and James sign aboard the DaVinci!

Sandye cuddles up to Kirk (fortunately Spock does not get jealous).

Three of us went in to see the movie and all had varied opinions of this sequel. Sorry folks, no spoilers! All in all, an effort that was worth the time and commitment. Jeff and I were totally exhausted and I spent most of the day on Sunday resting up from the 16 hours spent at the theater over the weekend.

Special thanks to Jeff for hanging in there the whole time and many thanks to Amy and Joseph Ottinger, and Jeff Dotson and James Rodgers for joining the best chapter in the fleet! Welcome to the crew.

VADM Russell Ruhland

USS DAVINCI IN PICTURES

The following is a trip down the USS DaVinci memory lane. Each month I will show a series of photographs from our very beginning, as the Shuttle DaVinci, up until the present time. Many of you will remember these faces. To others they will be complete strangers. But, they made the USS DaVinci what it is today. Reminisce. If you have any photographs that you would like to see published in the Pilot, feel free to send them to me with a brief explanation as to who is in the photo and when and where it was taken. If I get a name wrong, please let me know! Okay, here is our birthday celebration for Vanessa Winfield at Carrabba's.

While waited to be seated, James poses for a picture and the crew celebrating Vanessa's birthday.
