FROM THE CENTER SEAT

The first event of March actually took place on the last Sunday of February. It was too late in the month to include it in the March Pilot. That, of course, was the very successful Columbus Toy and Comic Book Show at the Space Science Center. I am sure Dutch was quite happy as there always seemed to be a line stretching out the door with folks eager to get in. The place was certainly hopping all afternoon.

The DaVinci had a membership drive table and a room all to ourselves. The reason for this was the silent auction Dutch thought up to raise money for the dwindling DaVinci latinum vault. And raise money we did! It was a bit slow at first with folks wandering through, looking around, and leaving without bidding but as the morning became afternoon the place began bustling with folks bidding and over bidding on nearly all of the donated items. When the dust had settled, the auction brought in $260 for our treasury. Add to that the 7 new memberships and various donations and the DaVinci raised well over $300 (much to the glee of Connie, our very own “Gringotts”).

The table was manned throughout the day by Joe, Scott R., and me. Other DaVinci members dropped by during the day – Randy and Sandye, Sandra and Wilbert, Scott N., and Michael (if I left anyone out, please forgive me). I forgot my camera (gasp!) and so I had to take photos with my new smart phone (double gasp!!). And since I did not have my camera to remind me to take photos I only took a few.

Before the photos, I would like to give a BIG Bajoran that to Dutch for coming up with the idea of a silent auction, going as far as donating some items as well. We also received some donations from many of the vendors. I too donated some items as did Joe.

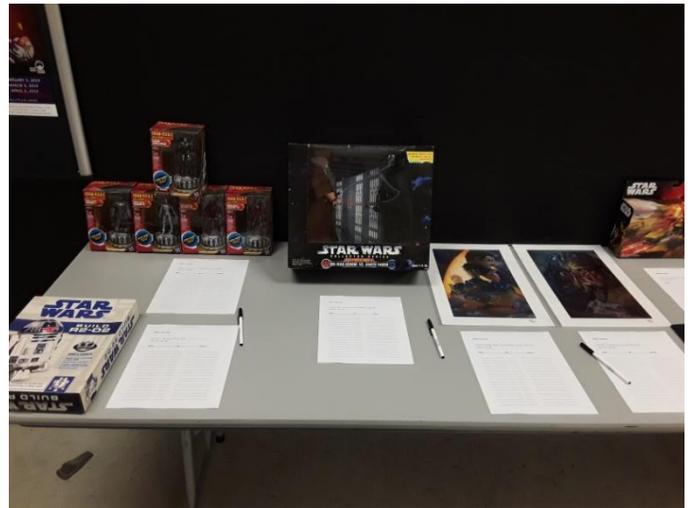

Finally, I would like to welcome to the USS DaVinci those folks who joined up at the show: Rodney Barham, Corin Conner and David Madrigal, Kirk, Katy, and Nolan Holcombe, and Jonathan Simmons. Welcome to the best and largest Region 2 Starfleet chapter. Now if we could only get y’all to join Starfleet!

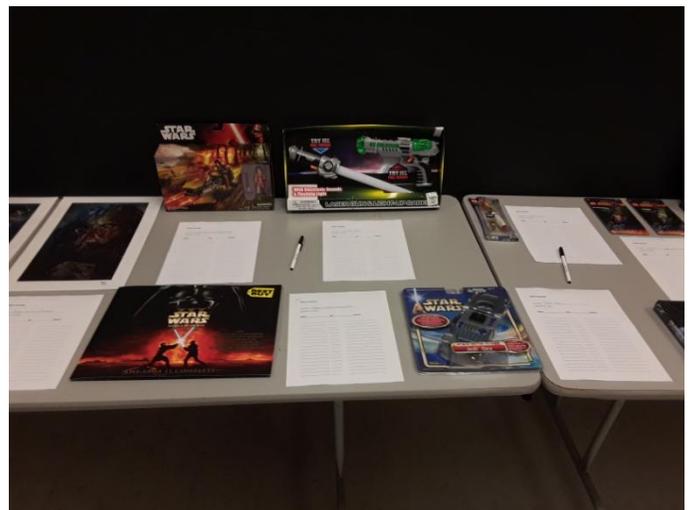

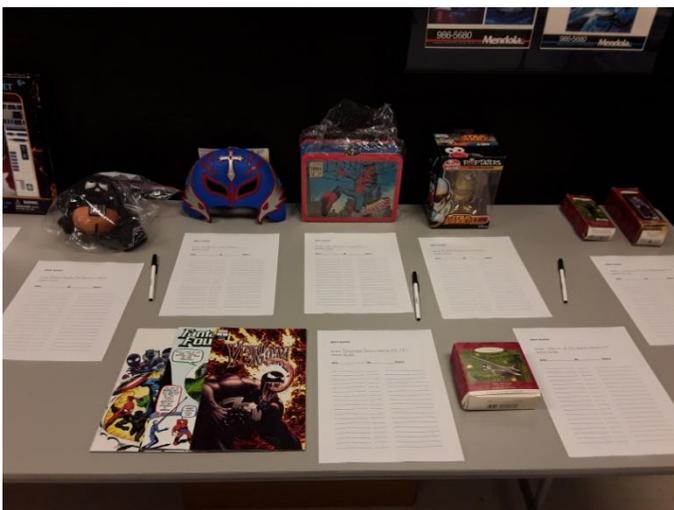

Okay, here is my first attempt at taking a photo with my new phone. I suppose it turned out okay. Anyway, here is Scott proudly posing in his Starfleet Marine uniform. Take note all you new members! We do have a Marine contingent aboard the DaVinci.

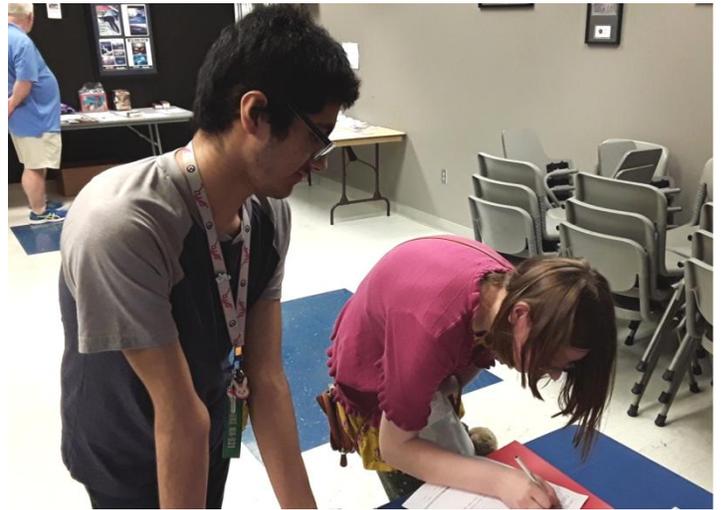

Our banner hangs outside the auction room and Scott and Joe man our membership table.

Auction announcement and Starfleet flag hangs in the room and the first table of auction items.

More tables of auction items.

And even more auction items and new member David watches Corin fill out an application.

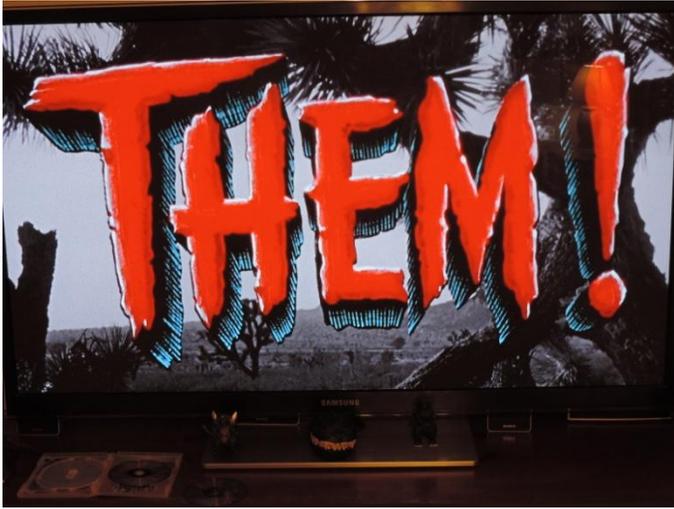

Corin wanted to have a picture taken with us and we obliged! Scott, Joe, Corin, and Freddy pose for a photo.

Next on the agenda was an away mission to see “Gone with the Wind” at the AMC 13 Theater. As it has been with all the classic films, the DaVinci turn-out was pretty poor. Only Steve C., Connie and I attended. However, unlike most of the recent special showings, the theater was fairly “crowded” with about 50 folks in attendance. Perhaps it was the length of the film (4 hours) that kept folks away. Late March brings another great film to the big screen. On 27 March the AMC 13 Theater will be showing “To Kill a Mocking Bird”. Please try to attend this Oscar® winning film starring Gregory Peck. Of course, this may be OBE depending on when you receive this issue of the Pilot.

Our bi-monthly Pizza and a Movie Night at my house was only attended by three other crew personnel – Joe, Steve C., and Gregory. The showing had to be moved to Saturday as I attended the Dwight Yoakam concert on Friday evening. Perhaps this accounted for the low turn-out. Anyway, knowing the appetite of the latter two individuals I bought 3 pizzas – mushroom, pepperoni, and ham, doubling the ingredients for more robust pizzas. The movie of the month was “Them” a classic 1954 sci-fi film about mutant giant ants (with Leonard Nimoy in an uncredited role) and one of my personal favorites. Being a fairly short film, it was decided to play another and so we watched “The Creature Walks Among Us”, the third and final film in the “Creature from the Black Lagoon” series. Although not as good as the first two, it was nonetheless fun to watch as the creature became more human-like. The fun broke up around 9:30 PM with very little pizza left over. The next Pizza and a Movie Night will be sometime in early May and will be back to its usual Friday time slot.

The first movie of the evening and Gregory helps himself to the mushroom pizza.

Also hitting the mushroom pizza is Joe and Steve (maybe I should have bought 2)!

Joe, Steve, and Gregory await the showing of the next film “The Creature Walks Among Us”.

The DaVinci crew at the March “Pizza and a Movie Night” enjoying both the pizza and the two films shown!

The next March event was our monthly Night Out/Membership meeting which was held for the first time at the Shrimp Basket. The turn-out was not as large as I had expected. Still there were 13 DaVinci members present to feast on a variety of fish and fowl. Since it was Monday it was also all you can eat fish (catfish or whitefish) night and several of our illustrious crew took advantage of the offer. I brought a couple of items for the Captain’s Perk give away – or so I thought. Randy had donated a couple of items to the DaVinci at the comic book show last month. One was a Star Trek Deep Space Nine Companion book and the other a coupon for a free meal at Smokems barbeque in Phenix City. The former I had but the latter disappeared somewhere between my kitchen and the Shrimp Basket. I am certain I put it in the book but it was nowhere to be found during the Captain’s Perk drawing. Our server, Alexa, was great keeping everyone’s glass full and the table clear.

When just about everyone had finished their meal it was time for the evening’s drawings. First up was the free meal. I could hear Dutch mumbling something about “let it be me, let it be me!” It must have been a continuation from his prayers at last month’s Night Out. Well, just as it was then, he did not win. The winner was Martha, the matriarch of the DaVinci! Next up was the drawing for the Deep Space Nine Companion which was won by Wilbert but claimed by his mom Sandra. Congratulations to the March Night Out winners. Folks began packing up their belongings and heading out the door shortly after all the excitement had died down.

While Martha checks out the menu Jessie and Jeff chat and Diane and Russell decide what to order.

Lisa and Dutch pose for a photo as too do “breakfast buddies” Freddy and Joe.

Posing for a photo are Todd and Steve and Wilbert and Sandra.

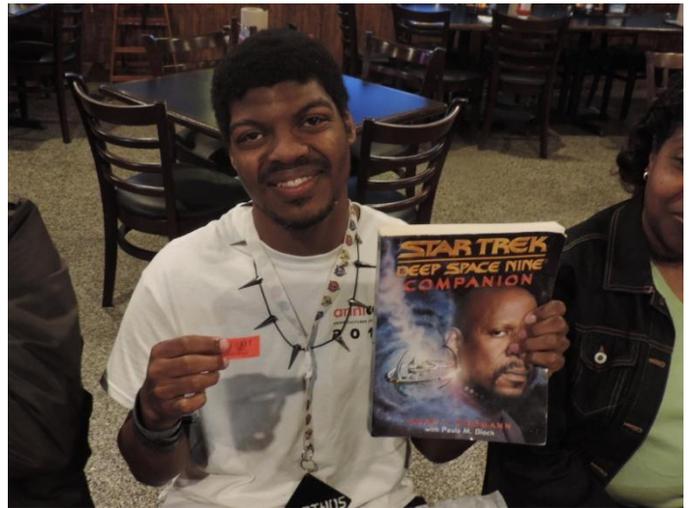

Todd switches so Sandra and Wilbert could sit together and poses with Dutch and Jessie shows Wilbert something on her phone (probably something similar to what she showed Jeff above).

Our server, Alexa, takes food orders from Diane and Russell and Todd and Steve.

Wilbert poses with Alexa and Russell and Martha enjoy their food.

Look what we won: Martha (free meal) and Wilbert with Sandra eyeing the prize (Deep Space Nine Companion)

The DaVinci crew at the Shrimp Basket during the March Night Out/Membership meeting!

It is hard to believe but on 16 March the USS DaVinci celebrated her 23rd anniversary as a Starfleet chapter and what better way to celebrate such an event than to have a party! The original time slot had to be postponed because I was in too much pain from a pinched nerve in my back. I had an epidural (most unpleasant) the following Monday and it seemed to help greatly. I still have a tingling sensation in my extremities but the pain that accompanies long periods of standing seems to be gone. The big test will be when Connie and I travel to Disney World and I have to stand in the long lines at the various attractions. Regardless of what happens, our 23rd anniversary party WILL be held Saturday, 06 April, beginning at 12:00 PM. All are invited to attend to eat pizza and watch Joe (my XO) and me get pied. If you wish to come please let me know. As a special guest, the Regional Coordinator for Region 2 will be in attendance! He is coming down to look at all the items I picked up for Moogie's Store at the Region 2 Summit in May.

The Monday following the anniversary party will be the first of the 2019 Miyazaki film festival features, "Howl's Moving Castle". This is an outstanding Japanese anime that should not be missed. We will meet at the AMC 13 Theater at 6:30 PM. If you think that movie is exciting, on the 17th the AMC 13 will be showing the 1959 classic film "Ben-Hur"! This is a long movie and the showing time is an hour earlier at 6:00 PM and so we will meet at the theater at 5:30 PM. Please try to make both of these films. We usually do not get a good turnout from the crew (2-4 at the most) and if the day or time is not good for you please check out the AMC website because the films are shown on several different days and times.

The last event for April will be our monthly Night Out/Membership meeting which will be held on Monday, 15 April, at O'Charley's at the usual time of 6:30 PM. This is the earliest date the Night Out can be in the month so plan accordingly. Make sure you attend this one because O'Charley's has some of the best rolls in town (and they are unlimited as well)! Hope to see you there!

Until the next time - engage!

678th STARFLEET MARINES

Greetings Marines! For this month's article I have taken a couple of pages from the SFMC History manual Part 4, Pages 8-9. This particular chapter is in reference to the war between the Klingons and the Federation between Federation and Klingon space expansion. Hope you find the read as interesting as I did. Until next time, Ooh Rah!

First Blood: The Klingon Wars (2195 to 2199)

In 2195, Federation mettle was tested for the first time by forces from the Klingon Empire. Tensions over trade and expansion along the border between Federation and Klingon space broke out in full scale war in February of that year. The Klingons attacked all along the shared border, sending diversionary forces against minor targets to spread out Starfleet assets and concentrating on major targets with overwhelming force.

The Klingon Fleet would overwhelm or scatter Starfleet resistance in and around the system, then use specialized assault transports to beam down whole Divisions of Imperial Marines to destroy local resistance, which often consisted only of a Strike Group and assorted local conventional forces. Using armor and artillery, with orbital bombardment support, the Klingons usually eliminated the hapless defenders within hours. Those ground forces spared the first wave of attacks faced mop-up operations after the Klingons had taken their primary objectives. Once again, orbital bombardment, followed by lightning transporter attacks, eliminated most opposition before it had a chance to coalesce.

With the Klingon front near collapse, the Federation took the unusual step of nationalizing all conventional planetary forces of its member worlds, and rushing them to the front in a desperate effort to stem the Klingon advance. Using heroic, sometimes suicidal tactics, these soldiers stopped the advance long enough for the Federation to recover and adapt to Klingon tactics. As the Klingon tide was slowed, and then stopped, the marines began to adapt themselves and their tactics to this new adversary. Marine line companies were grouped into Strike Forces, mission specific elements designed to be self-supporting in combat. These Strike Forces were then grouped into larger elements as needed for operations. The SFMC adopted armor and heavy artillery support. In the past, SFMC doctrine called for these elements to be provided by the planetary forces the Marines were to ostensibly support. The poor reliability of these forces, however, forced Marine planners to include these new branches, and as a result, Marine performance and unit survivability improved drastically.

The SFMC also developed specialized assault craft, on the order of the Klingon transports. In the past, the SFMC had simply used attacking starships or freighters. The starships were placed at a severe disadvantage because they had to fend off attacking Klingons while lowering shields long enough to transport men five to ten at a time. Worse yet, equipment often had to be off-loaded to shuttles, which then had to be flown in the face of planetary fire and off loaded at the surface. It could take up to an hour just to get one Strike Group on the ground. Freighters, although they could take advantage of the protection of Federation starships from marauding Klingon fleets, did not have the shielding to withstand planetary fire. Once assault vessels were in service near the end of the war, the Marines could take the war into Klingon space.

One area in which Starfleet started with and maintained an advantage was in the area of aerospace operations. Early on, the Corps realized the value of trans-atmospheric fighter craft to support ground operations. Inexplicably, the Klingons did not develop such a capability, and sub light craft such as the A-1 Talon 9 HI Manual wreaked havoc on unprotected Klingon formations. By August of 2198, the war was far from won, but aggressive counter attacks, improved technology and more advanced tactics began to push the Klingons out of Federation space. When a cease fire was finally signed in 2199, Marines were garrisoning soil that had been Klingon before the war.

NEWS YOU CAN USE!

The new rates for membership in Starfleet are in place and are a pretty good deal. NOTE: There are no more paper memberships available. All memberships are electronic (via email). If you are thinking of joining Fleet but the expense was too high, now is the time. If you do join Fleet you are automatically promoted to Acting Ensign! The new Starfleet membership rates are: Individual - $5; Family of 2 - $9; Family of 3 - $12; Family of 4 - $14; Family of 5 - $16; and Family of 6 - $17. Paper membership certificates are no longer available – all memberships are now completely digital. However, if you wish a paper certificate it will cost you $3.00 for each one plus shipping. If you want a printed copy of the Starfleet handbook it will cost you $8.00 plus shipping. If you are not in Starfleet, please give some thought about joining this great organization!

TABULATIONS

Okay, so the year is starting out slow. Freddy lost his spot as the top “tabber” as Connie brought some back from her trip to Texas. I am sure that number will not hold up so...

Start saving tabs. We need to collect at least 45,700 tabs to hit 1.5 million total tabs collected! As always, the tabs can come off any type can from pop to cat food to dog food to soup! Ask your neighbors to save tabs for you; ask your church or other social group to save tabs. You will be surprised as to how many tabs you can collect that way. Here are the totals as of press time:

Starting Balance	300
Connie Heller	561
Freddy Heller	494
Scott Roop	158

DAVINCI T-SHIRTS

The new DaVinci t-shirts are in!! They are quite nice and I am sure they will go fast so make sure you reserve yours today. The cost is very reasonable: YM to L ($11); XL ($12), 2X ($13), 3X ($14), and 4X ($15). I did order (I hope) enough of each size and this time around some youth medium in each color. Oh, we still have a few of the older ones left and they can be purchased at a slight discount. Here is what the new ones look like:

Operations

Science

Engineering

Here is what we currently have in stock:

Operations (Red)		Science (Blue)		Engineering (Yellow)
Medium	2	Youth Medium	1	Youth Medium	1
Large	1	Small	1	Small	1
XL	4	Medium	2	Medium	5
2X	3	Large	3	Large	3
4X	1	2X	3	XL/2X	1/1

We also have several of the older versions DaVinci shirts available for a discount – your choice $7.00 each. Here is what we have: Operations (1 - medium); Science (1 - medium); Engineering (1 - medium); Generic Gray (1 - medium and 1 – XL); and believe it or not we still have two previously worn of our first gray t-shirts (medium) in stock for $3.00 each. If you want any of the above t-shirts feel free to email or call me to reserve your size. I cannot hold it forever so if you reserve a shirt, please pay as soon as possible. Thanks.

Do not forget that Jeff knows a woman that goes to his church that will embroider a DaVinci logo on any t-shirt or polo for only a $10.00 fee. This is what it will look like:

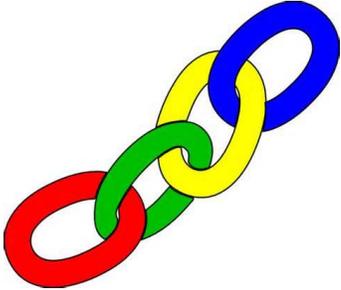

You have to supply the item in any color you wish. Bring me the item and the $10.00 and I will send them to Jeff who will then pass on the items to the embroiderer.

ACCOLADES

A BIG Bajoran thanks or congratulations go to:

USS DAVINCI IN PICTURES

The following is a trip down the USS DaVinci memory lane. Each month I will show a series of photographs from our very beginning, as the Shuttle DaVinci, up until the present time. Many of you will remember these faces. To others they will be complete strangers. But, they made the USS DaVinci what it is today. Reminisce. If you have any photographs that you would like to see published in the Pilot, feel free to send them to me with a brief explanation as to who is in the photo and when and where it was taken. If I get a name wrong, please let me know! Okay, here is Part II of our December 2007 Security Bowling Meeting!

Connie holds Alexander while she and Lech wait their turn and trying to pick up the spares (hum, did Connie pick up that baby split?)!

Roger (“say no to crack”) teaches Alexander the finer points of bowling and the DaVinci crew At the December 2007 Security bowling meeting!
